Thank you Your Honor. Now I'd like to bring in some more evidence from the HAB lab team.

Now HAB lab may you please tell everyone what you have in that test tube?

Yes, what I have here is a preserved sample from the Bay where John Doe got the Clams he ate.

Thank you Your Honor. As you can see we have found Dan Dino Physis as criminal in question.

He is guilty of causing several cases of Shellfish Poisoning in the Delaware Bay as well as murdering many Myxionecta.

Defense?

Ladies and Phyto of the court, I ask you to look not upon this poor Dino as a Criminal, but as a victim of inconclusive research, misidentification and as a framed innocent dino flagellate.

I have also brought 3 other samples from the same bay and some pictures of Not only Dan, but Herb as well at a multiplying party.

We also have made this graph on the screen

Yes and as you can see, Over time Dan & Herb have both multiplied and along with all of their Pals objection! Ladies & Phyto I would like to direct your attention to my 1st piece of evidence.

Judge: objection allowed please procede Mr. Skeletongna you see, Exhibit A named John Doe was enjoying a fun time with his friends at the raw Clam & Oyster Fest as evidence by this picture from 2 days ago.

Behold Exhibit A!

But, he ate a lot of Clams from the Bad Bay that day. Less than 24hrs later he was in the hospital because of shellfish poisoning because of Dan

I object Your Honor! There is no way to prove that my client is guilty of getting Joe Schmoe, or whatever his dumb name is, Sick From Shellfish!

Psst... I don't think your helping by calling him dumb!

Order! Order in the Court!

meep! meep! meep! meep! meep! meep!
